MANY ORGANIZAT'S HAVE SUMMER HOMES ON COAST WHERE MANY ARE SERV'D

Seven Organizations Representing Different Denominations Operate Interesting Summer Homes and Camps Bringing Hundreds to Bay Waveland.

One of the most interesting phases of the summer life of the Bay-Waveland area is the establishment here of a number of summer homes and camps by organizations where in the course of the season hundreds are served. Notably among the summer homes here may be named the Hubert Blenk Memorial, the Jewish Federation, Camp Onward, the Othelia H. Dielman Evangelical Center, the Children's Home of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Holy Cross College and St. Adele's Home.

The social element found in the presence of the hundreds at these several centers is an outstanding item in the general visitor group to the Coast, and the financial aspect of the maintenance of this philanthropic and spiritual value and the wonderful work represented by the several groups is undeniable.

BLANK MEMORIAL.

The Hubert Blenk Memorial, a home established and operated by St. Margaret's Daughters of the Roman Catholic Church, has cared for 414 mothers, children and old ladies this season, giving them a delightful outing in happy surroundings. This home had cared for a total of 2225 through last season during the years of its service and now this number is increased to 2639. This year the people have come over in five groups from New Orleans. The youngest child this year who has visited at the home was six weeks old and the oldest lady was 92. The largest family there at any time was a mother with her ten children who came from the Sacred Heart Parish in City. A total of 89 were included in the last group who returned Wednesday.

The home opened this year June 17, two weeks earlier than formerly in order to close this week and turn over the grounds for the ensuing month to the New Orleans Orphan Asylum and the Baby Asylum, the children from these two homes to arrive Friday of this week. The tenth anniversary of the opening of the home on this beach was celebrated this year and as a fitting close for the successful summer season a party was given Tuesday night this party taking the nature of a tacky party and all participating in enjoying the attendant amusements. A departure in the conduct of the home was noted this summer in which local groups of women should assist committees from St. Margaret's Daughters of New Orleans to oversee its activities, and this proved highly successful. Much of the success is due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. J. R. Ritzky who acted as general chairman.

JEWISH FEDERATION.

Almost 400 were entertained at the Jewish Federation Home this summer, those coming in six groups, the last arriving Tuesday. Approximately 60 young men came with the Young Men's Hebrew Association, there were two family groups of about 75 each, 33 came with the Young Women's Hebrew Association; 73 girls came from the Jewish Children's Home for one period, and 74 boys came from the Jewish Children's Home for another group.

The same staff which served this home so efficiently last year is again to be found here including Mrs. L. Mayer, in charge, Miss Irma Ray Swin, and Miss Messadiah Hendricks. The staffs from the Children's Home accompanied the children during their stay.

CAMP ONWARD.

Camp Onward is unique in its service, being non-denominational, operating strictly as a summer camp for members of the Kingsley House Community Center in New Orleans, and no one visiting the summer home here except members of the center who operated during the winter with every phase of social service and activity. The spirit of Camp Onward may be found in Miss Eleanor McMain, head of Kingsley House, who organized the first camp for this group 20 years ago, spending that first summer at Mandeville, then for five summers going to Mississippi City, and now for 14 years operating on the beautiful property here on the beach front where with a 300 foot frontage and reaching back to the railroad ample room is found on the 20 acres for the many guests. Miss McMain will have been with Kingsley House 20 years in October.

This year Miss J. J. J. Mayer, head of the Junior League Nutrition Center in New Orleans, is head of Camp Onward, she having been loaned to Kingsley House for the summer season. She is a graduate of Oxford College, Ohio, has served as an assistant at a community center in Providence, R. I., before going to Kingsley House where she was on the staff for two years before going to the Nutrition Center. Not only does she direct the various activities of the camp but plans the entire season from her experience as an assistant.

The purpose of Camp Onward is to serve the family group and there are some of the campers who have attended the camp each summer since its location here, for example, John Dahmer, 21 years old, at the camp at present, has come with his mother each summer, and his grandmother accompanied them until her death two years ago. The last party included a little 3-year-old Catherine Mitchell who was accompanied by her mother, grandmother and great-grandmother.

Each group remains at the camp 12 days. The regular groups are increased over each week. Last year 907 were entertained at the camp, this including weekend guests, and this number will be equalled this year when the large Labor Day crowd is counted. More than 7000 have been entertained in the 20 years of the camp, it is estimated.

The expenditure each year for the camp is fully $5000, and this sum is spent in Bay St. Louis.

The local plant includes a main building, six cottages, dining room and kitchen. It is attempted to keep life at the camp as easy and natural as possible, so that those who came shall receive something that they do not enjoy in the city. Water sports form a strong component part of the frolic, while fishing, crabbing and shrimping is fostered. Beach parties, truck rides and other amusements are planned for each group.

The most interesting feature of the camp life is the organization of each group. Upon arrival an organized meeting is held at which a governor is elected and at which committees are named. The general rules are: be happy, keep well, and be considerate of each other. The health department is named, the police department in which the traffic officers are most important is selected. Committees or older girls have charge of clearing tables, washing dishes and resetting tables. The mothers prepare all vegetables for the meals. The older boys get the firewood and the younger boys cut the kindling. Another group of younger boys are the "can smashers," flattening out all cans and burying them with a covering of lime in a pit. The dining room floors are cleaned by young men. Older boys catch enough seafood for at least one meal each week and more if possible. The little folks form the fly-killing brigade. The wee tots are the "white wings" and their duty is to pick up all paper and trash about the grounds. They stand before the candy store with their baskets in which they want the papers placed.

All houses are inspected daily. Each house has a flag and if nothing unworthy is done by any inmate of the house the flag may be flown by that house all day. Thus not only order, cleanliness are achieved but civic pride is generated. The staff this year included other than Miss Mayer and Miss Mayer, in charge, Miss Margaret Leonard, first assistant to Miss McMain at Kingsley House; Miss Lucille Hunter, trained recreational director, here for part of the summer; Miss Anabel Ewing, staff of Kingsley House in the domestic science department; and a group of junior councilors, Miss Mary Ziechich, kindergarten teacher in public schools of New Orleans; Miss May Holden at Kingsley House; Miss Hazel Schiltz, Loretta Doer and Hazel Schiltz, teachers here for part of the season.

EVANGELICAL CENTER.

The Othelia H. Dielman Evangelical Center has been established in its present pleasant location for three years, this property having been purchased by the lady for whom it is named and presented to the Evangelical churches of New Orleans for a local center of activities of the summer. This is the tenth annual summer of the activities have been conducted by this church on the Coast, having met preceding the gift of the home along the Coast at several locations.

RELATION COUNTRY AND TOWN

Rotary Club Holds Interesting Meet At Leetown Park Wednesday.

The Bay St. Louis Rotary Club departed from its usual custom of meeting each Wednesday at the Hotel Weston by going to Leetown Park and Playground this week for the noon hour session, 20 Rotarians motoring to Leetown for the occasion. In an unusually lovely location luncheon was served by the members of the Woman's Home Demonstration Club. A delicate meal of country product was served, the chicken stew and variety of vegetables proving most inviting.

Robert L. Genin and Jos. O. Mauffray were the principal speakers of the day. Mr. Genin spoke of the relation of those who reside in town and those who live in the country. He stated that the problems of each community are now country-wide, that those things which affect the town also have a relation to the country, having an interest and value for each. He said that town people are interested in good roads, churches, consolidated schools, health and crops of the country people, while similar activities of the town people are of interest to the rural dweller.

Mr. Mauffray spoke of modern conveniences which may be had by the country home as well as in the city home. He discussed fire prevention in modern homes.

Other groups who have spent time this summer at the center include a camp of younger boys, 19 in number with three staff members; two camps of girls of about 50 in attendance; Woman's Federation group of 35, an at the close of the present training school a men's brotherhood group will occupy the center.

EPISCOPAL HOME.

One of the distinctive homes on the Waveland beach is that of the Children's Home of the Protestant Episcopal Church for girls which is conducted by the sisters of Bethany of the Episcopal church of the Louisiana diocese under the direction of Bishop Sessions. These sisters operate a children's home in New Orleans at 609 Jackson avenue and in the summer this home moves to the Coast, the younger children coming over in May and the older girls coming after the public schools close, while the class in domestic science, which takes an intensive course under the training of a teacher from Newcomb College, come at the completion of their three weeks' work. The group will return to New Orleans September 4 this year.

There are 44 girls at this home for the summer, from the age of 4 to 16. They spend their time in recreation, enjoying the water sports to the full extent, fishing, crabbing, shrimping, bathing, boating.

Sister and sister, own blood sisters, are in charge of the summer home. Sister Mary is Mother Superior of the Order and is the very competent in charge of this religious order. A third blood sister is associated with Sister Emma and Sister Mary, Miss Annie Lee Fitch, in the conduct of the home, being trained nurse and supervising the health of the home, and is also much interested in the work of the home. Sister Marie who is at present in New Orleans, is a third sister of the Bethany order, assisting at the home.

The Children's Home was established by Rev. McCall of St. Anna's church to care for children left orphans and destitute as a result of an epidemic and destitute children. The girls attend high school in the public schools of New Orleans. Some of them have become nurses, many are in commercial life as stenographers and bookkeepers, and one is serving at present in Japan as a missionary. The influence on the lives of the girls from the Sisters in charge is unlimited.

At present the sisters have as their guest their niece, Deaconess Eleanor Smith from the Cathedral at Dallas. She is in charge of the social service work at that great church, works with the young people and her activities even carry her into the jails where she holds services.

HOLY CROSS VILLA.

The Holy Cross villa here is the summer home for the faculty of Holy Cross College, New Orleans, and here the brothers of the Holy Cross and certain of the students who desire to do special study, remain during the time school is closed at the college. For almost 20 years this home has been maintained by the college for a rest home for its faculty. This summer there have been 41 students attending the six weeks summer course, the greater number of these students being from New Orleans. Through there are several Spanish students included. The classes are conducted for 2 1/2 hours each morning and are primarily for making up work. The college maintains a grammar school, four to five grade through the eighth, has a four year high school and commercial course.

Brother Vincent, vice-president of Holy Cross College, is in charge of the summer home. Brother Ephrem, president of the college, visits here occasionally.

FARMERS PLEASED WITH EXPERIMENT STATION VISITS

County Agent F. B. Pittman Heads Group of Farmers Monday For Tour.

The group of farmers from Hancock county who visited the experiment station at McNeil and Poplarville Monday of this week were favorably impressed with the work being done there, and the party considered the trip a great success and the day well spent for the farmers who made the tour according to County Agent F. B. Pittman, who accompanied the party.

The pasture improvement work at the McNeil station is impressive and is convincing to anyone in doubt as to the value of South Mississippi lands as grazing lands. Mr. Pittman said. The study of the new pasture plants, hay plants and plants used for soil purposes is interesting, and promises to be of great value to this section in the near future, he said.

At the Poplarville station the variety test, fertilizer test and soil improvement test is educational. Different varieties of field crops under test include cotton, corn, soybeans, potatoes and sugarcane. Any farmer in the county that fails to visit the stations this fall is missing a treat and if they cannot visit the demonstrations they should by all means secure the bulletins giving the results of the stations. Mr. Pittman said. The bulletins can be obtained from the county farm agent's office.

OCEAN SPRINGS PASS WILL MEET IN PLAY-OFF TILT

Gulfport, Miss., Aug. 27.—Pass Christian and Ocean Springs finished in a deadlock for the top of the second half standing at the close of the official schedule this week and will play off the tie next Sunday for the right to meet half winner, Ocean Springs.

Pass Christian defeated Bay St. Louis 3-1 in the final round of play while Ocean Springs turned back the invading Lynum Lumberjacks 8-4 in a hard fought game that was halted by a downpour of rain at the start of the seventh inning. Gulfport took advantage of Lynum's setback by noting out with the Lumberjacks' second game. As Lynum and Gulfport have a game to play off that was rained out it is possible that they will attempt to break the tie next Sunday while Ocean Springs and Pass Christian play for the second half honors.

Lynum threw a scare into the Cubs at Ocean Springs by knocking their ace, Leo Webb, out of the box in the third and taking the lead, but the first half champs came back strong to grab the lead at the time of the rain when the game was called.

1200 ACRES SOLD TO NORTHERN MEN

A total of 1200 acres of land sold to 12 settlers is reported by R. W. Todd, of the Stafford, Derbes and Roy firm, New Orleans, agents for Edwards Hines lands. Last week there were four Memmonites from Ohio here, who selected the land themselves and for will visit. The total sale is 1200 acres, all located south of Lumberton in Pearl River county, Mr. Todd said. Four men from Indiana were here and purchased, each choosing 40 acre tracts in the Catahoula community, said Mr. Todd. The land sold for $35 per acre, he stated, bringing the total sale to $42,000.

All of these purchasers bought their land to occupy and will move to the Coast this fall and winter.

Leave For Chicago.

Mrs. E. J. Leonhard, A. T. and Walter Leonhard and Eugene Kalinski, left Monday morning by motor for Chicago for a ten days or two weeks' trip. They will visit Mrs. Leonhard's brother, Edward Kalinski, while away. A. T. Leonhard will purchase fall and early winter stock for the Leonhard department store of New Orleans and a buying trip will be made at St. Louis and Kansas City.

The domestic duties of the home are in charge of members of the Presentation order of Slaves, who serve in a like capacity at the college.

ST. ADELE'S HOME.

St. Adele's Home is the summer home for sisters of Mount Carmel high school of New Orleans. The mother house of this order is located at Lake View, Robert E. Lee Boulevard, New Orleans, and sisters of the school spend their summers at home on the Coast.

This summer home has an interesting service in that it takes lady boarders who desire to spend some time here under sheltered care. Also the Sisters opened their Coast home June 1 and will close September 15. This is their fifth year to reside here. At the high school in New Orleans the Mount Carmel sisters teach high school, normal and commercial courses and have a certain number of boarders at the convent.

DOCK BOARD MEMBER IS C. G. MOORE

Former Acting Secretary Of Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce Is Appointed.

The announcement of the appointment by Governor Huey P. Long Monday of C. Greer Moore as new member of the dock board in New Orleans, was greeted with pleasure by his many friends in the Bay-Waveland area who are happy to see him thus honored. Mr. Moore resided at Bay St. Louis for some time and for some four years operated a real estate office here. Recently he served as acting secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce and is known as actively interested in the Coast area. The Echo joins with happiness in the group congratulating Mr. Moore on his appointment and rejoice that Governor Long saw fit to elevate him to this position. He succeeds Ernest Carrero whose term as a member of the board expired June 30 of this year.

Mr. Moore resides at 618 Adams street, having moved to the city from Bay St. Louis about a year ago. His office is in the suite in the Pere Marquette building occupied by Earl K. Long, attorney to the inheritance tax collector and brother of Governor Long.

The new dock board member is the son of R. M. Moore and Mrs. Tommie Wren Moore. He was born in Slate Springs, Calhoun County, Mississippi, December 5, 1889. He was the youngest son in a family of ten children, five girls and five boys. His father was engaged in agriculture and merchandising in north Mississippi. In 1895 Mr. Moore's father moved to Biloxi, and there C. Greer Moore spent most of his boyhood days and received the greater portion of his education.

In 1911 Mr. Moore went to New Orleans to accept a position as salesman for Morris & Co., remaining in that position for a little more than two years, and then going with Swift and Company where he remained for a period of two years. He accepted a position in the internal revenue service under J. Y. Fauntleroy and J. O. Bender.

Leaving the government service Mr. Moore traveled in Louisiana and Texas for a year for the Magnolia Provision Company of Houston, Tex., and for six years afterwards was sales executive of the Barton Manufacturing Company of Waco and St. Louis, in charge of sales in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and part of Florida.

His wife is the former Miss Anna Odendahl, and they have four children. H. C. Berckes, secretary-manager of the Southern Pine Association is a brother-in-law of the new dock board member.

GAYNOR-FARRELL IN TALKER DEBUT

Famed Screen Sweethearts Play Under Borzage's Direction in "Lucky Star"

"Lucky Star" is a road-show type of production in every sense of the word with dialog sequences that will be the talk of the season. It's houseful for any theatre. Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in their first talking picture—with Frank Borzage at the directorial helm! Here's three of filmdom's biggest ticket selling names giving combined and reunited efforts toward the making of "Lucky Star." Fox Movie-tone talking picture that promises to duplicate or even exceed the record of its illustrious predecessors—"7th Heaven" and "Street Angel."

Here's the best luck you've ever had. Wherever there's Charles Farrell, there's thousands of feminine hearts to flutter—and wherever Janet Gaynor is, there's lace handkerchiefs with moist eyes. And don't kid yourself about the man who made their big hits. Frank Borzage is one of the few directors whose name means anything to Mr. and Mrs. John Public.

Remember that Charles and Janet are reunited after a long lapse of time—and now they speak their parts. That means a lot to the fans who have been waiting for them to be co-starred again. Thank your lucky star for "Lucky Star."

This is a romance plus. The star of stars is a story about a ragamuffin of a girl who emerges as a butterfly from a chrysalis when he finds she has beauty beneath the grime; Janet Gaynor as the queen of Poverty Hollow—about to be married to the man of her mother's choice.

Borzage stages the dialog sequences, too. He clinches tighter than ever his position as master director and never has put more heart punches into a picture than in this tale by Tristram Tupper which gives a new meaning to love.

Then, there's Guinn "Big Boy" Williams and Hedwigia Reicher, both speaking their parts on Fox Movie-tone. Drama is written all over the utterances of these two players, who ably head the supporting cast. And dialog—give an appreciative hand to that talented Broadway dramatist, John Hunter Booth. He's there.

"WORDS AND MUSIC" AT A. & G. THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

The "Shadows" number in "Words and Music," sung by David Percy with Lois Moran taking part, was written by Con Conrad, Sidney D. Mitchell and Archie Gottler, who provided the songs for the "Fox Movie-tone Follies of 1929." Thirteen persons besides the principals appear in the number.

Harlan Thompson wrote the words and Dave Stamper wrote the music for these songs, listed with those who render them.

"The Hunting Song," sung by Percy to Miss Moran, with an ensemble of forty taking part. "Take a Little Tip," interpreted by twenty boys and as many girls. "Too Wonderful for Words," sung by Percy to Miss Moran. "Beauty," sung by Miss Moran. "Yours Sincerely," sung by Miss Moran and twelve boys. William Kernell contributes words and music for two songs, "Steppin' Along" and "Good Old Mary Brown." The former is sung and danced to by Tom Patricia, who has originated a new dance of the same name, and Bubbles Crowell. The latter number is presented by an ensemble of college boys.

That makes eight songs in all, and all are destined to be hits, as they have been composed by outstanding men in the creating of popular numbers. "Steppin' Along" particularly is expected to inspire a dance vogue outrivalling that of "The Breakaway," "Black Bottom" or "Varsity Drag."

ARRANGING MATCH RACE NEAR FUTURE

A match race between two local outboard motor boats the Mercury owned by C. A. Breath, Jr., and the Nanon owned by Mrs. Marie Juden, both of Bay St. Louis, is being arranged and will probably be run off in the near future, was the announcement made here this week by people interested in the comparative speeds of the two boats. Each will be powered by B class motors. When negotiated have progressed further an announcement of the date for the race will be made. The excellent action of these two boats in the races Sunday has created much interest in their respective prowess and the match race will be arranged because of this spirit of interest, it was said.

A flag pole was erected and two grandchildren, Theone and A. E. Briede, III, who with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Briede, Jr., were here from New Orleans for the weekend, raised the flag amid the plaudits of the 40 friends present for the occasion. After the flag raising refreshments were served in the home and a pleasant party enjoyed.

We are not pessimistic but when we look at some of these short skirts, as the ladies walk by us, we have an idea of what will happen if the lady sits down.

Subscription payments in September begin to come in as the honest subscribers begin to think about the needs of a journal of independent opinions, including one about those who insist upon not settling their accounts.

College life is great, and college athletics is all right, but it certainly does look funny in midsummer to see an otherwise rational young man dressed in D. V. I.'s doing a mile on a brick pavement.

GUARD YOUR CHILDREN.

The greatest menace to children is careles-ness. It takes a greater toll than disease. If you love your children, help protect them by being careful and teaching them to be cautious.
"Between the ages of 5 and 14 accidents are leading cause of death under 20 years of age.
Among the young children from one to four, accidents are the second most important cause of death," says the National Safety Council, and it points out:

"Between the ages of 5 and 9 accidents lead all other causes with a death rate of 47.1 per 100,000 population. In this age group diphtheria runs second with 22.3 deaths per 100, 000 and tuberculosis with 105 fatalities per 100,000 runs third. Between the ages of 10 to 14 accidents lead with 35.2 deaths per 100,000 population, followed by tuberculosis with 16.4 and heart disease with a 14.7 rating."

Even adults need to be warned, for, the same authority declares that, "in deaths of all ages among males, accidents ran second with a death rate of 112.3 per 100,000 population. Heart disease leads with a death rate of 187.2 per 100,000. Among females accidents hold seventh place with a death rate of 43.6 per 100, 000 population, as against heart disease in first place, with a death rate of 172.7 per 100,000 population, with cancer, nephritis, cerebral hemorrhage, tuberculosis and pneumonia following in the order named."

RADIO PROGRESS.

It will not be very long before the public in 112 cities in the United States will be able to send messages by radio. The Federal Radio Commission has awarded one wireless company forty of the available continental point to point channels. The reason so many were allotted to one firm is so that it will be enabled to furnish a comprehensive system of wireless communication in competition with the telegraph companies.

Another step forward will be the completion within the next few months of the world's first constant frequency monitoring station, which will be erected at Grand Island, Neb. The purpose of this station will be to afford broadcasting stations an opportunity to have their frequencies checked, by means of which they will be able to stay on the proper wave length, avoiding the "whistle" which so frequently interferes with receivers.

The value of this service may be seen from the fact that there are in the United States today 16,000 amateur transmitting stations, approximately 1,000 government stations, 2,000 ship stations, and several thousand commercial stations, and others engaged in particular services.

SHOOTING FOOLISH CHILDREN.

A rather pitiful story from Somerville, N. J., where four children went into a cornfield, to "steal" grain, and after some shooting, one 12-year-old boy was dead and two others were wounded, one seriously.

The owners of the field, denying the shooting, say they have been troubled by the children of neighboring poor families, who stole their corn. The prosecuting attorney says "I suppose the farmers have fired in the air before ... I suppose, whoever did it didn't know how close he was to them."

We do not defend children who steal, even though in this land of reputed prosperity and boasted superiority, it ought to be unnecessary for any child to steal, but we do rise to remark that whoever shot these children ought to be apprehended and punished.

The idea that "whoever" did it didn't know how close he was to the children is a lot of imagination. The chances are that he lay in wait for the youngsters and poured it to them to "pepper" them. Whether he made a mistake, or deliberately shot to kill, is something that the state of New Jersey ought to find out.

ACT NOW; CURE MAY BE LATE.

News comes from Boston of experiments by a young Russian, who, in the opinion of some experts, has discovered a possible remedy for cancer.

As everyone knows, cancer is an abnormal growth. The new process is designed to deliver an excess of oxygen to the cancerous growth, bringing death to the diseased cells.

The news story is that Prof. Sokoloff's preparation has been used on 1,000 rats and mice with results sufficiently satisfactory to warrant a preliminary announcement. Work with the preparation upon human beings is yet to be performed.

While this is extremely important news, if it proves possible to cure cancers by the application of such a compound, the people of Hancock county should remember that the best present safeguard is worth several million cures ten years hence. So, watch suspicious sores, and have them examined at once by your doctor, who will be able to save you if you go to him early enough.

RUSSIA PLANS WAR, UNLESS.

With all the talk about world peace it is significant that the armies of Russia, China and Japan are moving towards the battle ground of Manchuria.

Russia, according to news reports, is bent upon regaining the lost railroad and intends to do so at the point of the bayonet, if necessary.
The Chinese are disunited, and, in the opinion of many military critics, no match for the Russian army, even if united.

Japan, with special interests involved, sends her troops to striking points, where she may be able to act in the furtherance of her own policies.

Wonder what's become of the fellow who used to predict that in a few years there would not be a pine tree in the state? He did not take into consideration the reforestation projects.

As far as The Echo is concerned, and we don't care who knows it, we are for the modern flappers. With all their faults, and they have some, they have the possibility of developing into excellent women, which is a fine prospect.

THE HUNDRED DAYS—GOOD CONDUCT—ADVICE.

Fiction is a poor thing compared with facts. I suppose I know the story of the Siege of Troy, from the time it was first told, and hearing of it many years. It never interested me, its incidents seeming childish, specially that one of the river taking sides, and leaving its banks, at command of the gods, to inconvenience some of the combatants.

But I read of Napoleon, a real man, with absorbing interest. Every little while there is a new book about him, and I am not satisfied until I get hold of it. His life was crowded with incidents an ordinary man can in some measure understand.

His first wife had an impudent troublesome, highly-bred and ugly little dog he hated; he was so frequently away from home on his big affairs that the dog did not know him, and it occasionally bit the conqueror. He tried to bribe a servant to get rid of the dog, but could not, with all his power.

I have heard all my life that when a man "amounts to something" his wife reverences and obeys him. Probably Napoleon amounted to more, considering everything, than any other man that ever lived, but both his wives were unfaithful, and made a specialty of nagging him.

To my mind the most remarkable incident in Napoleon's life was his return from Elba. He was a prisoner of the allied nations, after his disgrace at Waterloo. His own country was in hostile hands; his soldiers had turned against him. Yet he landed in France, almost alone, and marched toward Paris. As he encountered soldiers sent against him, he spoke to them, and they were converted to his cause; when he approached the gates of Paris, he had a vast army at his heels, and the king fled, taking his treasure with him, which the people on the other side of France captured to lay at the feet of this impudent, strangely powerful and lovable man.

He walked the steps of the king's palace, removed his travel-stained clothing, went to bed in security, and fell asleep to the sweet sound of "Long Live Napoleon."

In all his omnipotence God never witnessed a stranger scene.

When good conduct does not pay,
I do not urge it; indeed, I believe that when a man's conduct is not generally profitable, it is not good, and he should change it. The scheme of life contemplates a healthy, normal body, and in 95 per cent of cases, the mind is sound. This entails food getting, shelter, association with pleasing creatures of our kind, and thus Conduct is born. As it is good or bad, we succeed or fail.

When most people talk, they are merely barking what others have said.
The futility of good advice has often impressed me. . . . A gentleman in Michigan who has long made a business of giving advice about securing employment, and who has written extensively on the subject, writes to me to confess he is out of a job, and cannot find one. . . . Somehow this old gentleman reminds me of a doctor who has spent all his life in advising others as to health, and is himself ill, and writing to others for advice.

The Careless Letter Writers

(Editorial in St. Paul Pioneer Press.)

The American public was 8.5 per cent less careless or inaccurate about addressing its mail in 1928 than in 1927. Even so, the annual report of Postmaster General New shows that 23,649,044 letters went to the dead letter office in 1928.

Of course not all of these letters went astray because of carelessness or illegibility of addressing.
In many cases misdirection of mail is unavoidable because addresses have moved, leaving no trace.
But letters need not be condemned to hopeless wandering, ending finally in the dead letter office for that reason. If senders will only place a return address on the envelope their mail can be spared the humiliation of such an inglorious death. Indeed the Postal department attributes the improved showing of last year to its campaign to induce the public to give return addresses.

How much carelessness there does exist in the addressing of mail, however, can be appreciated from the fact that many of these dead letters contain money. Cash and currency found in dead letters amounted in 1928 to nearly $100,000, and the nominal value of drafts, money orders and checks contained was well over five millions.

Harrison, N. J.—Chicken fishing is the latest development. Losing chick-was left was a pile of empty jars.

"When you suffer for months and months, and take medicine after medicine with very little, if any benefit and then find a medicine that almost immediately ends your troubles and makes you feel like a new person, you want the world to know about it—and that was exactly my experience with Sargon."

For months before starting the treatment, I was so weak and run down that life was little less than misery.

My food simply would not digest but seemed to sour or ferment, and extreme nervousness would come on. I was also subject to bilious headaches that hurt me so much I thought I couldn't stand them any longer.

"Sargon strengthened me right from the beginning. My appetite is splendid and I am never troubled with indigestion or stomach gases and every trace of nervousness is gone. I feel better and stronger than I have in years. The Sargon Soft Mass Pills regulated me perfectly without upsetting me in the least. I only wish all other sufferers knew what I do about this wonderful treatment."—Mrs. Delpha James, 2585 Hale Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee.
